The Division International & Consulting is managed by Zech International Holding GmbH. Under this umbrella Zech Group combines its corporate commitments and activities abroad as well as its range of specialized consulting and planning services for national and international construction projects.

Under Zech International Holding's management Zech Group focuses its international activities in the area of construction mainly on projects in Brazil and China.

In the consultancy field, the division's companies cover a wide range of specialized consulting services. From consulting and project management services for wind power plants, the inception and execution of tailor-made data centers to the planning and execution of building logistics services for complex projects - the experts from each of the division's subsidiaries are experienced and competent partners.
